Seen & Heard Around Murray

We guess that the football season is over with the playing of the NFL all-star game Sunday. The women at our house are pleased with this for some reason. It seems that any red blooded American woman would enjoy watching a game of football.

At least there's more action and less problems than one sees in some of those soap operas.

Wife says she would rather watch basketball, at least she can see the ball. Says she never knows where the football is. We try to tell her that's the name of the game, but we don't make much headway.

One thing that throws us completely is the fluorescent light. When the thing starts flickering, we know it is either the bulb or the starter. We have figured it out and there are fifty million combinations you can work in trying to determine whether it is one or the other. The only sure way is to take out all bulbs and starters and put in new ones. That is unless it is something drastic like shooting a fuse or the ballast is burned up.

The average fluorescent bulb has two little points at each end. You get a bulb about three feet long and try to put it in the little holders and you have a king size job. The idea is to put the point into a small space, on each end of the fixture, then you turn the bulb in such a way that the other two points

Tremon P. Farris Dies In Blaze At His Home Monday

Tremon P. Farris was burned to death in his home one mile east of Tri City on Highway 94 last night about 6:30 p.m.

Reports are that Farris was in the combination den-kitchen of his almost new brick home when he was overcome by flames.

Family members said Mr. Farris was home alone when the tragedy occurred. His wife, Edna, was in Garden City, Mich., for the funeral of her father, Thomas Adams, on Monday who had succumbed on Saturday.

Mr. Farris, age 63, was a retired farmer and his address was Farmington Route One, The Farris home is located between Lynn Grove and Tri City in Graves County.

Coroner James Mills of Graves County was called to the scene and ruled that Mr. Farris' death was accidental. The remains were found on the couch in the den-kitchen combination of the home. Wintry Blast Of Snow Closes County Schools

Another wintry blast struck Murray and Calloway County early today, blanketing the county with a fresh cover of snow and forcing the closing of Calloway County schools for the second day in a row and for the ninth day since Christmas vacation.

Murray City Schools and University School did not close today, however the University School buses did not make their runs.

The finals of the Calloway County Elementary School basketball tournament, scheduled for tonight, has been canceled. The date for the finals will be announced by the principals of the schools.

Meeting for the championship in the tourney are Almo and Lynn Grove and New Concord and Kirksey will meet in the consolation game.

Official weather observer, John E. Scott, reported yesterday's high temperature registered at 23 degrees and last night's low was 15 degrees. One-half inch of snow was measured here this morning.

Accumulations of one and two inches were reported across the state this morning and the highway patrol urged motorists not to travel unless absolutely necessary.

Major highways were reported covered with snow and ice but all were reported open. The highway patrol in East Kentucky reported road conditions "the worst of the winter" and chains were required in many places.

The snow struck Western and Central Kentucky early enough for many school officials to cancel classes for the day. The snow moved into the state from the west and was expected to end in the west by noon. The forecast calls for snow to resume tonight in West Kentucky and move across the state.

The temperature was not expected to climb above the freezing mark, with the low tonight about 20.

Across The Nation When Sioux Falls, S. D., sets a record low temperature, that's cold. When Chicago breaks an 85-year-old temperature record, that's cold. When Williston, N. D., has 25-below-zero reading and it hasn't really begun to get cold, that's cold, too.

That's what it was like in the upper Midwest today. Thermometers in many places never rose above zero Monday and when the sun went down out of sight, so did temperatures.

Chicago's high temperature Monday was 4 above—the lowest on record for the date. The old record, 6, was set in 1885. Sioux Falls set a record Monday with a 35-below-zero reading. But Hibbing, Minn., was five degrees colder.

Lower And Lower Early today temperatures began a slide expected to take them to even lower depths. Shortly after midnight, Minneapolis had 15 below, Chicago 7 below, Burlington, Iowa, 11 be-

Gardiner Symonds, Chairman of the Board of Tenneco, Inc. in a talk about business related the following incident: "A few weeks ago I saw a filmed study of student opinion produced by Stanford Research Institute. In it, a graduate student was complaining that business thinks decisions should be made on the basis of profit and said, 'That kind of thinking leads one to evaluate a person on how much he's worth in the job market. What a terrible way to judge a human being,' he said, and continued: 'I don't think that the profitability of any given enterprise ought to be an important criterion.'"

He used this as an example to show how some young people view profit in the business world. Of course a business without profit, is no business at all. Businesses may have some high motives, but unless they show a profit none of these high motives can be put into practice, and the great service many render: would be unattainable.

The privilege of talking and even publishing nonsense is necessary in a free state; but the more sparingly we make use of it the better." — Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

UCLA Strengthens Hold On Number One In Poll

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—UCLA, overcoming a slowdown and a speedup, continues to strengthen its hold on the No. 1 ranking among college basketball teams.

The Bruins overcame Bradley's deliberate play and the racehorse tactics of Loyola (Ill.) last week to boost their record to 12-0. The double victories—61-56 over Bradley and 94-72 over Loyola—earned UCLA 30 first place votes and 343 points from the 35-member United Press International board of coaches in balloting for games played through Saturday, Jan. 17.

Kentucky, which boosted its record to 13-0 with a pair of victories last week, remained second, followed by South Carolina (12-1), St. Bonaventure (10-0) and New Mexico State (15-1).

Jacksonville (13-0) moved up to sixth, followed by Houston, Marquette, Illinois and North Carolina to complete the top 10. Davidson slipped to 11th, just ahead of Ohio University and Texas-El Paso, Columbia was 14th, Southern California took 15th and Pennsylvania and Santa Clara tied for 16th.

Wyoming was 18th, North Carolina State ranked 19th and Utah and Drake finished in a tie for 20th.

Kentucky edged Georgia 72-71 before routing Tennessee 68-52 in a pair of Southeastern Conference games. South Carolina handed Virginia easily, 63-42, but had its troubles edging Furman, 59-56.

St. Bonaventure was idle last week while New Mexico State downed Hardin Simmons 83-75 and Jacksonville trounced Virginia Islands 114-66. Houston was idle, Marquette beat Southern Illinois 67-57, Illinois belted Northwestern 101-80 and edged Michigan 75-73 and North Carolina defeated Clemson 96-91 before being upset, 91-90, by Wake Forest.

Five coaches from each of the seven geographical areas of the nation comprise the UPI ratings board. Each week they select the top 10 teams in the nation with points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis on votes from first through 10th.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Roman Gabriel's 28-yard touchdown pass in the final two minutes of play gave the West a 16-13 victory over the East in the NFL Pro Bowl Game.

Willis Reed Leads East Stars Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willis Reed of the New York Knicks, reassured that his stomach woes are spasms and not an ulcer, will lead the Eastern National Basketball Association All Stars against the West tonight.

With Reed, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia, John Havlicek of Boston and Walt Frazier of the Knicks, the scheduled starters, the East is favored to capture its seventh victory in the last eight All Star games, and its 14th in the 20-game series.

The West, already hard hit by the loss of Nate Thurmond, the San Francisco star who underwent knee surgery Sunday, also may get sub-par performances from Jerry West and Elgin Baylor, both of Los Angeles, who are complaining of minor ailments. West and Baylor will start, however, along with Lou Hudson of Atlanta, Connie Hawkins of Phoenix and Elvin Hayes of San Diego, who replaces Thurmond.

Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, the super rookie, is Reed's backup man at center for the East.

The game will be televised nationally over ABC, with the starting time set for 8:30 EST.

Esposito Has Back-to-back Shutouts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rookie goaltender Tony Esposito of the Chicago Black Hawks registered back-to-back shutouts last week and lowered his goals against average to 1.96 as he continued to lead National Hockey League netminders in the race for the Vezina trophy.

Esposito and Dennis DeJordy, who is used sparingly in the nets for the Black Hawks, are the top goaltending team in the NHL with a combined 2.15 average. New York's Ed Giacomin and Terry Sawchuk are second with a 2.33 mark.

Esposito has blanked the opposition 10 times this season, two games short of the team record held by the late Charlie Gardiner.

Bobby Orr established two records for defensemen last week when he earned his 51st assist and raised his league-leading point total to 65. Orr, who is 11 points ahead of teammate Phil Esposito, has 13 goals and 52 assists for the season.

Walt Tkaczuk of the New York Rangers and Phil Goyette of the St. Louis Blues are tied for third place in the scoring race with 50 points each.

Carol Vadnais of the Oakland Seals is the NHL's badman with 161 penalty minutes.

Georgia Eases By Auburn

By United Press International

There is something about Southeastern Conference opponents that brings out the best in the Georgia basketball team.

The Bulldogs sport an overall 6-6 record but topped their SEC mark to 5-1 Monday night with a 71-67 triumph over Auburn. The Georgia-Auburn game was one of the few major contests as most teams, including all in the Top 20, are taking time out for mid-year examinations.

Georgia's only conference loss was a 72-71 setback at the hands of unbeaten and second-ranked Kentucky. The Bulldogs, who still entertain some slight hope of blocking the Wildcats' bid for a 25th SEC title in the last 38 years, meet Kentucky again on Feb. 16.

Bob Lienhard and Lanny Taylor, the long and short of the Georgia attack, again paced the Bulldogs against Auburn. The 6-foot-11 Lienhard tallied 21 points and the 5-11 Taylor collected 22 while Auburn's John Mengelt led all scorers with 29.

Ohio State's Big Three of Jody Finney, Jim Clemons and Dave Sorenson carried the Buckeyes to an 84-70 victory over West Virginia. Finney scored 15 of Ohio State's first 18 points and finished with 30 while Clemons chipped in with 24 and Sorenson added 20 as the Buckeyes raised their record to 11-2.

Jim McDaniels, the 7-foot center for Western Kentucky, enjoyed a big night with 27 points and 16 rebounds in the Hilltoppers' 85-75 triumph over Murray State. The victory kept Western Kentucky atop the Ohio Valley Conference standings with a 5-0 record.

Tommy Little's 43 points carried Seattle past Loyola of Los Angeles, 87-85; Colorado used Jim Creighton's 24 points to beat Iowa State, 85-67; Dayton walloped Detroit, 89-68; Utah State downed Portland, 95-83; Clemson tripped Georgia Tech, 88-78; Weber State got by Montana, 85-80; Tennessee Tech edged Eastern Kentucky, 94-93; East Tennessee topped Morehead, 75-63, and Stephen F. Austin, the top-ranked small college team, beat Southwest Texas, 90-71.

NBA Expects To Expand

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The National Basketball Association was expected to expand to 16 teams today with the addition of two new franchises from among five applicants.

Two applications are from Buffalo, N.Y., which recently was admitted into the National Hockey League. Cleveland, Houston and Portland, Ore., are others bidding for NBA franchises.

The NBA board of governors' newly-elected five-man expansion committee worked on the project Monday night without filing a report of decision-making proportions.

The board was instructed to return today and NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said he was hopeful that a decision on expansion would be made by noon. There is no obligation, however, to expand the league at this time.

The selection of two new cities from among the present applicants is in line with Kennedy's refusal to explore the possibility of merger with the rival American Basketball Association.

About merger talks with the ABA now or in the future, Kennedy said "The NBA has set down rigid merger rules and regulations and no merger could possibly take place until these conditions are met." He did not specify what guidelines the NBA expected the ABA to follow before the leagues could merge.

Green Leads NBA In Field Goals

NEW YORK (UPI)—Johnny Green, sent out to pasture by the Philadelphia 76ers in the fall, has found a new life with the Cincinnati Royals.

The 36-year-old forward, who called Cincinnati coach Bob Cousy to ask for a job after his release, has become the National Basketball Association's most accurate shooter from the field this season. Green, who has converted 272 field goals in 487 attempts for a .559 percentage, overtook Wes Unseld of the Baltimore Bullets, who dropped to .544.

Green, who has been tagged with the nickname "Jumping Johnny" because of his great leaping ability, is also 10th in the league in rebounding and is averaging 14.7 points per game. Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers tops the NBA in scoring with a 31.2 average while Philadelphia's Billy Cunningham is next with a 28.1 mark.

Flynn Robinson of Milwaukee is the best free throw shooter with a .901 percentage while Nate Thurmond of San Francisco, out for the season with a knee injury, is the top rebounder with a 17.7 per game average. Len Wilkens, player-coach of the Seattle Supersonics, is the assists leader with a 8.8 average.

REINSTATES GUARD

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Kentucky basketball Coach Adolph Rupp said Thursday he was reinstating Bob McCowan, a guard who was averaging eight points a game for the second-ranked Wildcats when he was suspended last week for violating curfew rules.

Rupp said he would study the suspension of Randy Pool and make a decision on the reinstatement of the reserve forward.

SPORTS

Verga Holds Lead In ABA Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Larry Jones of the Denver Rockets has certainly been consistent as a scorer in the American Basketball Association.

Jones, who trails Bob Verga and Spencer Haywood in the ABA scoring race, this past week became the first man in the league's history to score 5,000 career points. His total of 5,027 points in 196 games gives him a 25.6 life time average—the exact scoring pace that he holds this season.

Verga, of the Carolina Cougars, leads the league with a 27.3 average while Haywood is second with a 26.7 mark.

Bill McGill of the Pittsburgh Pipers is the best field goal shooter with a .559 percentage. Darrel Carrier of Kentucky is the most accurate free throw shooter with a .899 mark. Doug Moe of Carolina leads in assists with a 6.6 per game average.

Racers Drop Big OVC Game To Western 85-75

Western Kentucky has a little breathing room today at the top of the Ohio Valley Conference's basketball ladder—but just a very little.

Western, led by big Jim McDaniels with 27 points, dumped Murray State Monday night 85-75, to bring its OVC record to 5-0 for the season. Murray, a challenger to Western's dominance, now is 4-2 in the league. Western, 12-2 over-all, jumped to an early lead and gradually expanded it until late in the final half when Murray State pulled to within eight points with two minutes left.

Murray's top scorer was Jimmy Young with 21 points.

East Tennessee remained in the picture for possible OVC honors Monday night, downing Morehead 75-63. ETSU is 5-1 in the conference and 11-4 for the season. Morehead is 6-7 for the season.

season and 2-5 in league play. Mike Kretzer gunned in 18 points and Bill Stringer had 16 to lead the Bucs to victory. Ron Gathright and Jerry King had 16 each to pace Morehead.

A last second goal by guard Bill Bland lifted Tennessee Tech to a 94-93 victory over Eastern Kentucky Monday night. At one point, Tech was 17 points behind.

High for Tech was Rich Stone with 23 points while Willie Woods had 22 for Eastern Kentucky.

Tech's OVC record stands at 3-3 and they are 7-6 over-all. Eastern Kentucky has a 3-4 conference record and is 5-7 for the season.

Dear Abby

Boyfriend needs loan, not love!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a respectable 29-year-old woman who lives alone and supports myself.

I recently met a very attractive man [31] who showed a very serious interest in me right from the start. He spoke of our future together and I honestly believed that I had finally found my man. He asked me how much I had in the bank, and I told him. Then he asked to borrow $800. He is a salesman and said he was doing "fabulously" well, so this didn't add up. I asked him if he'd sign a note, and he said if he wanted to sign a note, he'd borrow from a bank.

Now I don't know what to think. Half of me tells me not to trust him and half of me tells me I love him. BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: Listen to the half with the brains in it and tell your boyfriend to get lost. Lover boys who mix money with moonlight are poor risks.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved into a nice three-story building in an apartment complex. Our problem has to do with the couple living directly beneath us.

Everything they do is on a fortissimo level. We would not complain about ordinary noises, as both my husband and I teach and are gone during the daytime, but the evening noise is of a very intimate nature and it gets to be very annoying.

I imagine they are newlyweds because we have been disturbed by the sounds of their lovemaking at all hours of the night and early morning. Weekends are unpredictable. It is impossible for us to have guests over since these sounds can be easily heard in our living room.

The apartments are well built, believe me. These people are LOUD! We have never heard any other neighbors.

Moving is out of the question since we have signed a lease, and besides, my husband's library of about 4,000 volumes took considerable time and money to set up here.

Is there a tactful way to deal with these people?

"THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS"

DEAR PEOPLE: The direct approach is the best one. Either ask your husband to have a man-to-man talk with the man downstairs. Or YOU have a woman-to-woman talk with the lady.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago my parents had a big fight with the family across the street. [They were once very good friends.] My father told us kids that we were never to set foot on their property again, and we were forbidden to even speak to any of their children.

My problem is that I care a lot for the daughter of those people. In fact, we dig each other a lot more than our parents know.

Not wanting to lie and sneak, I told my father that I didn't think he had any right to tell me that I couldn't even speak to this girl any more just because he had a fight with her folks. He got real mad and said if I ever spoke to that girl again, he'd make me sorry. Do you think that's fair? Abby, I can't stop seeing her, and I don't intend to. I am 17, and so is she. I would like your opinion. CANT SLEEP

DEAR CANT: I, too, think your father is being very unfair. But until you are able to leave his bed and board and make your own way, he's the boss. And unless he's a stubborn, bull-headed tyrant, if you behave yourself and don't show your anger, he may reconsider and reverse his decision.

DEAR ABBY: That gal signed "BUNNY" should have signed herself "DUMB BUNNY." She whined to you about all the nice single gals who went on skiing week-ends in search of husbands, and found only married ski bums. Then she asks YOU to appeal to the wives of these ski bums to keep their husbands home.

Tell BUNNY that just because a man says he's "married," doesn't necessarily mean he is. I know lots of skiers who claim to be married just to eliminate Bunny after the week-end.

Outdoor Exercise--- For Beauty, Health

NEW YORK — Tell a home-maker she ought to get more exercise and she is apt to laugh in your face. She'll remind you of the bending, stooping and stretching that go with her everyday jobs. It goes without saying that housework is hard work. But it isn't necessarily good exercise.

There just isn't any substitute for outdoor exercise — winter weather or no. And this means more than just brief trips to the store and back. To get the full benefit of the fresh air one has to invest some energy, and do it consistently. How about a sport? Winter has something for everyone.

For the energetic, daring type there are skiing, ice skating or coasting. For the more sedentary there is the brisk daily walk, or even jogging. A romp with the children is another way to enjoy outdoor exercise.

A word of caution. If you are out of condition, don't overdo; particularly at the beginning. If you are going to take up a sport get good instructions, use proper equipment. Dress for the sport. There are attractive, fashionable and practical outfits for every sport.

Protect the face from the cold and wind with cream. This will prevent drying and chapping. If the muscles are stiff and sore after exercise give yourself a witch hazel rubdown. This is the technique used by professional trainers and masseurs.

The Winter Wonderland has much to offer other than the beauty observed through a window or a windshield. Get out into it a few times and see for yourself.

Color plays an important role through home furnishings by communicating the atmosphere of a home and producing feelings of comfort or irritability.

Peoples-Counce Vows Said In South Fulton

SOUTH FULTON, Tenn., —In a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, Dec. 27, at 6 p. m., Miss Donna Marie Peoples and James Milton Counce Jr., were united in marriage at South Fulton Baptist Church in South Fulton. The Rev. Gerald Stow performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo L. Peoples of South Fulton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Counce, also of South Fulton.

Large poinsettias set in greenery of jade and huckleberry formed the background for the exchange of vows. Either side of the altar was graced with brass spiral and branched candelabra held by white satin roping. Hurricane lamps were placed at each side of the center section of pews in the church. The ends of the pews were decorated with green velvet bows.

Vyron Mitchell, vocalist, and Peggy Connell, organist, provided a program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown designed by Alfred Angelo. The formal gown of white satin had an Empire waist made of lace. Her chapel train was attached at the back waistline. She wore a Touch of Heaven headpiece, styled by Vogue, arranged in a double bow of peau de soie net on top of a Denise lace pearl cap aglow with orange blossoms and pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids accented with stephanotis and velvet streamers.

Miss Carol Heathcock served as maid of honor. She wore an A-line pastel green crepe gown with a moss green looped belt. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wayne Mahone of DeKalb, Texas, sister of the bride, and Miss Jan Covington of Greenville, Miss Debra Covington, niece of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid. The bridesmaids were dressed the same as the maid of honor and carried similar bouquets.

Attending the groom as best man was his father, Milton Counce of South Fulton. Groomsman were Gerald Young of Byhalia, Miss., and Philip Hunt of Covington, Tenn. David Peoples, James Faulkner, Virgil Covington and Larry Nace were the ushers. Kimberly Nace, niece of the groom, and Mike Mahone, nephew of the bride, were the flower girl and ringbearer.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Cleo Peoples, wore a pink and tan three-piece wool knit suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was a bronze cymbidium with matching ribbon. Mrs. Milton Counce, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece pink crepe dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a pink cymbidium with matching ribbon.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Counce left for a wedding trip to Memphis. They are now at home in Murray, where they are attending Murray State University.

MODERN FACILITIES—Franklin County's extension center has accommodations to train 158 students.

In the continuing effort to put vocational education within the reach of every young Kentuckian, Franklin County recently dedicated its vocational education extension center.

There are presently 13 area vocational schools across the Commonwealth and 38 extension centers under the direction of the Kentucky Department of Education.

One area school and seven extension centers are under construction, largely funded by Governor Nunn's $25 million capital construction program.

Currently there are 119,985 students taking advantage of the facilities.

Taxes Save Taxes When Deducted

"TAX DEDUCTIONS Can Be A Big Tax Saver!"

Many of the non-Federal taxes you pay can be deducted from your Federal income. You can also deduct most of your interest payments on your personal debts, such as bank loans or home mortgages. Here are some facts that deserve emphasis.

Real Estate Taxes

The interest on a mortgage is deductible on your Federal income tax return. Don't forget, in many instances the monthly mortgage payments you make to the bank include an additional amount which the bank holds for the payment of taxes, insurance, etc. In this case, the bank is acting as your agent in paying tax on your property. Real estate taxes paid by the bank for you are deductible as if you had paid them directly. If you bought a new house during 1969, you and the previous owner may deduct the various taxes paid on the property but only in proportion to the number of days in the real property tax year each of you owned the house. This is true regardless of who paid the taxes.

Interest or Penalty

If you are late in paying any of your income tax, you will probably have to pay what is called an "addition to the tax." This "addition" may be interest but it may also be a penalty for understatement of income tax. It is important that you find out exactly what it is you are paying, because interest would be deductible on your next tax return whereas a penalty would not. Don't assume that because the "addition" is assessed on a per annum percentage basis that it is necessarily interest. Penalties may also be assessed on the same basis. If you had to pay additional amount for underpayment of your estimates, this "penalty" is not deductible.

Automobile Expenses

To deduct automobile expenses in connection with business travel, you should add up the total

POLICE CHIEF JAILED—Wayman Dial, 35, chief of police at San Marcos, Tex., was jailed in Beverly Hills, Calif., charged with attempted burglary and facing other burglary charges in his home town. He and another man were arrested inside a home in an exclusive residential section after they tripped a silent burglar alarm.

cost of maintaining your car, including depreciation, gasoline, oil, repairs, tires, supplies and garage rent. Divide this total by the number of miles you drove in 1969 to find the average cost per mile. You then multiply the average cost by the number of miles you drove your car for business travel only. This will give you the amount you should deduct for business use of the car; however, if the standard mileage rate of 10c a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7c for each succeeding mile of business use would result in a larger deduction, you should use the latter method.

If you don't use your car for business, there are still expenses you can deduct. Among the usual deductible expenses are state and local sales and use taxes on the purchase of a car, state gasoline taxes (which is 7c per gallon in Kentucky) and

Dear Johns Strike Back

SAIGON (UPI): Warning: Don't send a "Dear John" letter to a GI from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division.

Dear John letters, for those not familiar with the fortunes of war, are communications soldiers receive from time to time from girl friends back in the states telling the hapless GI it is all over and that they have found a new love.

The GIs of the 4th Division, located in Vietnam's central highlands, are striking back.

Dear John letters are being submitted to a committee and if a girl is lucky, she may receive a mimeographed reply which proclaims her as the winner of the Dear John Award for the month.

The reply says that if the girl is really lucky, she may get the Dear John of the year award for the most original, effective and subtle good by letter of the year. "Keep up the good work and good luck," it concludes.

Spokesmen for the committee that conceived the idea say they have yet to receive a reply to one of their awards.

losses from an accident not due to your "willful negligence" and not covered by insurance. For Federal income tax returns the loss must be reduced by $100.00 for each accident.

Other Deductibles

You may deduct sales and local retail sales taxes, but not Federal excise taxes. Since it would be difficult for you to collect a bill for every small item you buy, a reasonable estimate of the amount of state and local sales taxes you have paid on cash purchases may be acceptable. You can do this by estimating how much was spent on items covered by such taxes, and then multiplying the amount by the sales tax percentage. This will give the amount to deduct as estimated sales tax paid.

Although you are allowed to compute sales tax on actual expenditures, you may be called on to prove these amounts are reasonable. The better solution is to use the charts prepared and published by the Internal Revenue Service each year that give you an amount to deduct for sales tax based upon your adjusted gross income. Ordinarily you will not be asked to produce records to support a sales tax deduction that does not exceed the amount in the chart. (You can claim a larger deduction, of course, but be prepared to prove you are right.)

There are a number of state levies that are not deductible.

For example, you cannot deduct state gift or inheritance taxes, nor can you deduct estate or succession taxes. There are also certain state license fees that are not deductible such as dog license fees, and hunting and fishing license fees.

State income taxes paid by you are deductible on your Federal tax return. It is important to remember that on your 1969 Federal income tax return you can only deduct those interest and tax payments that were made during 1969. A refund of prior years' state income taxes must be included as income in the year received if they were used as a deduction in a prior year.

Computer Teaches 1st Graders

By FREDERICK H. TREESH
United Press International

In Billerica, Mass., first and second graders are learning their three R's and a C. The C is for computer.

The school system believes that in this technological age the first year of school is not too soon to familiarize a child with how a computer works. This is accomplished by letting each youngster learn some of his vocabulary and number skills at a typewriter-like computer terminal.

The computer prints out a question and the child pushes a button indicating his choice among several possible answers. After a brief pause, the computer either acknowledges that the answer is correct and moves the child on to the next question or it writes something like, "No, Bobby, the answer is number five. Please try again."

Prepared By Students
A number of the computer programs—the key-punched instructions that enable the computer to ask questions and respond to answers—were prepared by Billerica high school students in their data processing class.

The teen-agers also use the computer in social studies. They play a "supermarket game" in which two teams compete in operating a business—hiring employees, ordering inventory and making sales. The computer requires each team to make 25 or 30 critical management decisions and then it prints out a profit or loss balance sheet for each.

High school girls use the computer in home economics as an aid in designing dresses. The boys use it in woodworking. It helps them figure the dimensions of their project and the materials they will need.

Joseph Danahy, director of data processing for the Billerica public schools, says the system is one of the leaders in the nation in using the computer in the classroom. He believes only budget limitations could prevent some computer use for every grade in every school in the next few years.

Computer Language
Next year, for example, eighth graders will be offered instruction in Fortran, a computer programming language used in science, Fortran and another language for business applications of the computer now are taught in high school.

"I believe that every student in high school today will in his lifetime, even if he lays bricks, come in contact with a computer," says Danahy. "If they know about computers, they will be able to talk intelligently about them and not be afraid of them."

He hopes that all students, by graduation, will have done some homework on the computer, taken a test from it or used it in an art project—enough to let them know if can do all sorts of things for them in the future.

Opponents On Daylight Savings Time Issue Testify Yesterday

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Opponents and proponents of Daylight Saving Time testified for more than three and one-half hours Monday before the House State Government Committee in the House chamber as hearings opened on controversial House Bill 16.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. John Rickert, D-Elizabethtown, would exempt Kentucky from the provisions of the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 and Kentucky would revert to year-round standard time. The hearing at which 25 persons testified Monday, was to resume today.

For many, Monday's hearing was essentially a rerun of a similar 1968 hearing and contained few, if any new arguments.

Chief spokesmen seeking to defeat the bill and allow the Daylight Saving Time to remain from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October were from industry, communications and transportation.

Opposition to "fast time," as usual, came from farmers, farm organizations, a restaurant operator and an educator.

Harry C. Barfield, Lexington, President of WLEX-TV, and representing nine other television and radio stations, told the committee that (DST) is an economic issue, not an emotional issue.

Maverick State
He warned that if Kentucky were to vote to exempt itself from the Federal Uniform Time Act it might get a reputation as a "maverick state."

He said the national networks no longer plan to provide delayed programs for "out of step" states as they did before the uniform (DST) adoption.

Committee chairman Rickert questioned Barfield closely about the mechanics of network replays and "feeds" at the conclusion of his testimony.

Two farm wives, Mrs. Phyllis Tucker and Mrs. Hugh Bland, both of Hardin County, questioned the wisdom of having young children standing on rural roads before daylight waiting for school buses. "Would you want your little child standing on the road in the dark waiting for the bus?" Mrs. Bland queried.

Rep. T. Simmons, R-Scottsville agreed that the early hours for school children were one of the knottiest problems of the time change question.

Norman Brine, of Ashland, a personnel official with the Ashland Oil & Refining Co., Ashland, said both management and labor at Ashland Oil support DST.

He was echoed by J. Edward Maddox, assistant to the manager of the Ashland Works of The Armco Steel Corp., of Ashland. Maddox said that approximately 20 per cent of the 1,808 Armco employees at Ashland live in Ohio and West Virginia.

Robert C. Wade, of Glendale, president of the Hardin County Farm Bureau, listed the effects of fast time on farming and dairying. He said it resulted in many lost hours for farmers during their most important season.

Edwin Sutton, of Lancaster, vice-president of the National Farmers' Organization, said the NFO had voted unanimously at its state convention in favor of Standard time.

Bus, airline and railway officials all spoke in favor of retaining uniform time in Kentucky.

Not Before Sundown 7

Myron A. Verville, of Chicago, with the Air Transportation Association, said there had been considerable flight scheduling confusion when Michigan reverted to standard time last year. He said that he felt if Kentucky returned to standard time and Ohio remained on DST, much of the Cincinnati Metropolitan Air traffic would be channeled through southern Ohio rather than the greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone County.

Two farm wives, Mrs. Phyllis Tucker and Mrs. Hugh Bland,

PEOPLES BANK OF MURRAY, KENTUCKY

PEOPLES FARM CREDIT CORPORATION

DEES BANK OF HAZEL, KENTUCKY

Dear Customers and Stockholders:

Inflationary pressure primarily due to irresponsible federal spending policies in 1967 and 1968 have produced very tight money conditions and high interest rates. We feel that there are now certain forces at work in the economy that will help correct this situation and hope there will be an easing of money conditions in the latter part of this year.

In spite of tight money, we were able to increase our resources of the affiliated Corporations by approximately two and one-half million dollars. Our total resources are now $30,761,306.00. The Capital Funds and Reserves are $2,314,664.00. We have used these resources to serve Murray and Calloway County and the surrounding area to the best of our ability.

We have tightened loan policies considerably and do not feel that we will be able to meet all the loan requests for the early part of 1970; however, we do anticipate an increase in loan activity in the latter part of the year.

The Dees Bank of Hazel plans to build a new bank building with modern fixtures and equipment so as to offer their customers better service and security.

The Peoples Bank of Murray, Ky., has acquired a lot on Chestnut Street to build a Northside Branch. This area is in need of Banking service.

We are going to move our Consumer Loan Department into the old Murray Insurance Agency Building next door to the bank. This will improve our services to our customers.

We plan to offer $100,000.00 of 6% Preferred stock for sale in the early part of this year. If you have an interest in this stock, please let us know and we will try to hold some of it for you.

We have increased our interest rate on our Certificates of Deposit by compounding them daily at 5% which gives them an effective rate of 5 1/4% if held for 12 months. We also guarantee this 5% compounded daily rate for a period of 5 years regardless if interest rates go down in the 5 year period.

We look forward with confidence in the future of our area and feel that our Corporations are in very good position to take advantage of the future opportunities presented by this growth.

Sincerely yours,

H. GLENN DORAN,

President
